Hughes for shoes. Shoes for men at 20 cent off for cash all this week. 413 Broadway.

Where the Credit Belongs

Whatever credit belongs to the arrest o Thomas Hughes, who is wanted in Omaha for burglary, is due the Council Bluffs city police. Hughes has been in town two weeks, and supposed he was safely hidden away The local officers connected him unmistakably with the burglary of McKenna's saloon on North Sixteenth street in Omaha, for which "Sleepy Hewitt" is now in custody. Just before he was taken across the river Saturday night. Hughes confided to the officers the story of the burglary, giving all of the details, while maintaining that he had no hand in it. Just before the saloon was hand in it. Just before the saloon was broken into he was working on a farm near Elkhorn, and immediately after the burglary he came to this city. The local police noti-fied the Omaha officers ten days ago that Hughes was here, and that he was implicated in the crimes of the Hewitt wars. in the crimes of the Hewitt gang. tention was paid to the information gratul-tously given until it was repeated yesterday afternoon. The entire Omaha police forc was then hungry for Hughes, and he couldn' be gotten too quick to suit them.

Manager Bowen of the Dohany theater has arranged a pleasant finale for the engagement of Thomas W. Keene at the theater on Thursday night. Some time ago he wrote a letter to the great tragedian asking him if it would be agreeable to hold a reception on the stage after the play. A very pretty letter accepting the graceful compliment was received from him yesterday. Invitations will be sent today to the mayor and members of the city council, the city press rep-resentatives and a number of prominent men women, who will be delighted to mee Mr. Keene on the stage. The stage will be arranged especially for the reception, and there will be ample room to accommodate the large number of guests. The reception will take place immediately after the Luncheon will be served. It was Manager Bowen's intention at first to banquet Mr. Keene at the Grand, but the reception on the stage pleases him much better for the reason that it will be less conventional, be-

Drinking Resorts Scarcer Than for Many Long Years,

MAKES A DEEP CUT IN CITY REVENUE

Only Thirty-Nine Mulet Mills Left, but the Coming of Spring is Expected to Increase This Number Considerably.

Council Bluffs has the smallest number of saloons at the present time in the history of the city, with the exception of one brief interval about fifteen years ago. That was the time when the prohibitory law first went into effect, and the fear of the retributive wrath that could be invoked under the new statute reduced the number of saloons to zero. That condition prevailed but a few days, when one saloon keeper was bold enough to open his doors and ask the boy: in to take a drink. The saloon man had quietly sent abroad the word that he had : big stock of beer on hand, and as there was no sale for it the stuff was liable to spoil and the boys were asked to come in drink it up. After the first half day little boxes labeled "Charity" and "Pay Charity Donations Here" were placed in conspicuous lo cations all around the bar and at the front and rear ends of the saloon. The beer-loving public followed the suggestion and nickels and dimes were exchanged for foaming schooners of lager with religious regu arity on those hot July days and night Other saloon keepers took the hint and the contributions to charity made by Council Bluffs people during the middle month of that hot summer broke all previous records and placed the mark so high that it ha never been approached since. The number of saloons ran up from the zero mark on that 4th day of July, when the law went into effect, until it reached the old number. In all of the years since, and in all of the mutations of the prohibitory laws, the Couneil Bluffs saloon has been a permanent fix ture and the number has always been greater than at the present time. The mulci aw, which added nearly 40 per cent to the price of doing business, and the hard times that have prevailed for two years, which reduced the purchasing power of the patron nd their numbers also have been more potent to reduce the number of saloons and place restrictions upon the sale of spirituous quors than the operation of all the stringent chibitory laws and the influence of the emperance agitation.

At the present time there are Just thirty ine saloons doing business in Council Bluff Two years ago there were ninety. Las year there were sixty. Each of the presen thirty-nine is doing less business now than any of the ninety did two years ago. Three or four years ago there were dozens of places throughout the city, and especially in the disreputable quarters, where intoxicating quors were sold. Now there are none, at tast that the police can find. The reduced number of saloens is cutting if several thousand dollars a month from he city's cash receipts and the police fund. nto which all of the revenue from this cares is poured, is in a condition that will not permit of the plucking to which it is customary to subject it when any of the other funds in the city's budget get low. The small number of saloons is not causing any uneasiness around the city buildings, for it is expected that the number will inrease rapidly during the month. Three new places will be opened this week and others are in prospect.

DODGE LIGHT GUARDS' ARMORY. Masonic Temple to Be Cleared Out for county court house to the old Masonic tem- Hall.

The hall is the largest in the city, and one of the largest in the state. When the insurance company went into it several years ago, a portion of it was partitioned off into suites of large offices and wide hallways, and there was still left a hall large enough for a convention. The Guards have made arrange-ments that will permit them to occupy the hall regardless of the outcome of the suit ctarted against the insurance company for rent. All of the partitions will be taken out, and the hall will be the same as it was when it was the pride of the city. The only change in its appearance will be that produced by the mammeth brick vault constructed in the southeast corner by the in-surance company. The hall floor is made of hard wood, and can be easily put again in the condition it was when it was regarded part of the state. The Guards are getting ready for regimental inspection, which is expected to be ordered soon, and at a day's notice. They are also still imbued with the idea that they can manage to be sent to Washington and take part in the inaugural military dis-play. The company is in splendid condition and is composed of a bright lot of clean manly young fellows. The last quarterly report shows that it has the highest standing n the regiment.

Goes to Brother and Does Likewise. The trouble Tom Hughes has got into through his connection with the "Sleepy Howitt" gang has had a disturbing influence upon his brother Zeph, and was the cause of him being locked up last night with the charges of intoxication, disturbing a religous meeting and abusing his family place against him on the city jail blotter. Zeph went across the river yesterday afternoon to visit his brother in jail. He returned in an intoxicated condition at 9:30 o'clock and created a great disturbence at the Salvation army quarters in an effort to get his wife to go home and cook his supper. Officer Peterson was called in and assisted the leading mutineers have been placed under placed under peterson was called in and assisted the woman in getting her husband to his home. Peterson remained on the outside a few moments to quell any disturbance Zeph might raise. DIVIDED OVER AN APPOINTMENT Iowa Republicans Split on the Northern District Attorneyship.

DES MOINES, Jan. 31.—(Special Telegram.)-The situation regarding federal appointments in Iowa is getting critical. The fight over attorneyship for the northern district is the storm center. State Chairman McMillan and M. D. O'Connell are the candidates and O'Connell has seemed in the lead till within two weeks. Now it looks as if McMillan were forging to the front. It is announced that McMillan has at last secured the undivided support of Congressman Perkins, from whose district he halls, and that Perkins will stand or fall with Me Millan. Dolliver is pushing O'Cennell, and it is understood that for the first time in all the ustory of state politics Senator Allison has a stand against the congressmen taken his associate in the senate and will support McMillan. Senator Gear is for O'Connell and so is Congressman Henderson. But Alli son is said to have concluded that O'Con-nell, who has been district attorney twice has had enough and that the younger element is entitled to a chance. Both Mc-Millan and O'Connell have been here to the last few days to secure endorsement from the legislators and almost every mem ber has lined up on one side or the other. McMillan has the support of the national ommittee and if it proves true that he has Allison ha is likely to win.

More Light Thrown on the Circular of Claussenius & Co. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senator Lodge said today: "Since receiving a copy of the telegrams which Claussenius & Co. were sending out to affect votes on the immigration bill and which I gave to the press there has been sent me a copy of the circular which the same firm has been sending out through the mail. As they stated in an nterview that they were sending out their elegrams only in their individual capacity. it will be interesting to observe that the cir-cular is addressed to agents, who, I suppose were also to act in their individual capacity and not as agents of the North German Lloyd Steamship company. The circular in full is:

CHICAGO, Jan. 25, 1897.—To Agents: The immigration bill, which is intended to materially restrict immigration, comes up for final disposition in the nouse. Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, 27th inst. It is quite clear that immigration will really be restricted almost to the extent of total exclusion of immigrants snould the bill be made to insure the defeat of the bill. You are indirectly interested in the defeat of the bill as much as we are and we would respectfully ask you to wire your representative immediately upon receipt of this to vote against the bill, informing him that the measure virtually means exclusion and that his vote in favor of same will mean repudiation by his constituents and his defeat at the next election. The Woodward Theater company, which has made many friends in Omaha by its conscientious and generally acceptable work in various rounds of plays on former occasions, opened a fortnight's engagement as the Creighton yesterday, giving two performances, to the evident satisfaction of very large audiences. The melodrama. "Struck Gas." was the matinee bill and the comedy, "The Arabian Knights," was pre-sented in the evening. The company has been materially strengthened since it was last seen here, the best of the old members having been retained and several competent new people added. Caroline Clore is one o here in any company this season. Ashley Rush made a pronounced hit with his Hebrew specialties in "Struck Gas," and Dora Carlton contributed a very good eccentric character study to the committee of the same

Thomas W. Keene and his company will present at Boyd's Tuesday evening "Richard III," Wednesday matinee, "Othello," and Wednesday evening "Julius Caesar."
Mr. Keene is accompanied by and under the management of Charles B, Hanford, who has won a reputation as a tragedian. He was formerly with Booth and Barrett and other eminent stars, and has himself been a star. The company supporting Mr. Keene is a large and efficient organization, composed of players who are familiar with Shake spearcan and other classic characters. Mr. Keene has found pleasure and profit this season, as in the past in the presentation of the celebrated plays of Shakespeare, and has demonstrated that popular public in-terest in the works of the great master and other classic dramas has not by any means

For the night commencing Thursday, with a matinee Saturday, Rice's grand revival of "Evangeline" will be the attraction at Boyd's. The best-known member of the company is the massive George K. Fortesque. He has played the part of Catherine ever since the burlesque was first started on the road, and he has also played it in every prominent city in this country, as well as Australia, where "Evangeline" was played for eighteen months under Manager Rice's direction, consequently George K. For-tesque ought to be known by millions of people, for surely millions have seen "Evangeline," and want to see it again.

Mme, Lillian Nordica and her talented associate artists will appear at the Creighton tonight before an audience which will be one of the largest and most fashlonable assemblages that has yet favored that popular theater. The program to be rendered will be a most elaborate one, as follows: .Moszkowski

Mr. George N. Loomis, treasurer, enroute of Sousa's band, arrived yesterday from Chicago, and will leave for St. Joseph tonight. He reports Sousa's band as in better condition than ever it was before, and fairly entitled to the designation given it by a New York paper at the opening of the present season, "Unrivaled." Mr. Loomis states further that the Sousa concerts thus far on the present tour of 21,000 miles have arned the most phenomenal receipts that Sousa has ever had. Four concerts at the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, on January 1 and 2, yielded almost $7.000 gress, the final concert drawing over $2,200. A single concert at Cincinnati on last Tuesday evening, January 26, drew $2,219 grozs. Very few places, even in the south, have proved disappointing in the matter of business plaint of hard times. The band numbers fifty, and the soloists are Mrs. Elizabeth Northrep, prima donna soprano; Miss Martina Johnstone, violinist; Arthur Pryor, trembone, and Herr Franz Hell, fluegelhorn. John Philip Sousa directs in person, and presents a lot of new and special features of extraordinary interest. Sousa and his band will appear in concerts at Boyd's next Sunjugged by the proposal of the source of the solutions of a husband with the dead woman for two years. ### OUTLAW TAYLOR IN JAIL

Apprehension of a Man Who Has Terrorised the West.

MURDERER OF MEEKS FAMILY CAPTURED

is positive that he has captured George Tay-lor, the notorious Missouri outlaw and mur-derer, who escaped the hangman's noose for HANFORD, Cal., Jan. 31.-Sheriff Buckner the murder of the Meeks family. Yesterday a man who has known Taylor well in Missouri saw him on the streets of town, and the officers lost track of him. Later, however, he was located in a sheep camp fourteen miles southwest of Hanford near Tulare lake. The sheriff organized a posse and went in pursuit. When they neared the camp the man who had identified neared the camp the man who had identified a wonderful tonic and nerve food. There-the outlaw in Hanford was sent ahead to fore, be sure and get Duffy's pure malt, no reconnoiter. He came back and reported matter how much you may be urged to try that there was no possibility of mistake. The man in the camp was George Taylor. The officers, knowing the desperate nature of the man they were after, waited until dark. Then they surrounded the camp. Taylor was completely surprised and made no resistance. With him was a young boy, who was also arrested. The two were brought back to Hanford and are now in jail.

The captured man denies that he is the much wanted Taylor. He calls himself Rattlesnake Bill and gives no other name. He tells a number of contradictory stories as to where he came from, locating himself suc-cessively in Texas, British Columbia, Montana and Oregon. Sheriff Buckner has not fied the Missouri officers of his capture and will send a photograph of the man that he may be thoroughly identified. STORY OF THE CRIME.

CARROLLTON, Mo., Jan. 31.—Bill and George Taylor were brothers, who had been endemned to hang for the murder of th Meeks family, and escaped from the jail here on April 11 last. Bill Taylor was aught on the roof of the jail and returned t his cell. George made his escape. Recently there have been many reports cred lting George Taylor with being at the head of a gang of bandits in Oklahoma and the Indian Territory. Less than a month after the fall delivery Bill Taylor was execute in the county jail here. The same fate awaits George Taylor when he shall be re-turned to the custody of Missouri authorities. The crime for which Bill Taylor wa executed was one of the most atro-Missouri's history. On the night of May 11, 1894, these two brothers murdered Gus Mecks, his wife, his two little girls and his baby. The crime was committed on a lonely road between Milan, Sullivan county and Browning, Linn county. After shooting the victims they beat their heads to shapeless mass.

The bodies were hidden in a straw stack on George Taylor's farm. Nellie Meeks, 9 years old, was the only one to escape, and she, too, had been so badly beaten that the murderers and left her for dead. crawled to the house of a farmer and th Chorus—"Noble Chief," 'Life of the Czar" Glinka Omaha Musical Society.

They were subsement, jury bribing was charged. There were numerous arrests and several convictions. Others were implicated. On July 2 last a verdict of murder in the first de cree was given, and they were sentenced to ang. The escape from fall and the exe-ution of Bill Taylor followed.

The alleged motive of the murder was the fear of the Taylors that Meeks would expose a big cattle steal in which they had played leading parts. It was claimed during the trial that Meeks had been an accomplice, and that he had sold the cattle on the Kansas City market. She ought to have had only the easiest things to do-and men, strong, healthy men, ought to have taken up this washing business. Now, here is a suggestion. In those families that still stick to soap and make their washing needlessly hard and unpleasant, let the men do that work. They're better fitted for it. In the families that use Pearline ("se with- out soap) and make washing easy, let the women do it. They won't mind it, sar Millions NOW Pearline

GROW OLD GRACEFULLY.

How You Can Do So and Continue to Be a Joy to Your Friends.

Young ladies may be beautiful, but nothing is more attractive in this world than a lovely old lady, with her white hair, her rosy face, wrinkled it may be, but with eyes beaming with kindness even through her speciacles. But what can be sadder than a sickly old lady, who suffers and feels that she is a burden to those around her and whose joy in life has departed? Is it not sorrowful?
